

Chicago, IL – March, 2009

Prospect City announced it has been retained by Joy Global Inc., a $3.5B market-leading mining equipment manufacturer, to pipeline the industry's top executive talent.

"It is a great pleasure to work with the industry leader and provide a unique solution to address their executive talent needs." said Robert Stein, President of Prospect City. "Our pipelining service has been well-received within the corporate recruitment functions of leading, innovative companies looking to identify and meet the industry's best talent. Joy is one of the very best, demonstrated by a 34% growth over the last year."

To support the service, Prospect City has developed a pipelining database to organize and deliver this critical information to the client. "It's included with all of our pipelining services and integrates our services with the client organization" added Stein. "As we have done for many clients, the service and product we offer dramatically improves the client's ability to identify and meet top talent because the talent is presented in the context of the entire market pool, with real data and intelligence drawn from conversations made transparent through this technology.

Prospect City is an infrastructure services provider to executive recruiting firms and corporate recruiting functions within large organizations. The company provides recruiting research and technology to corporate clients and executive recruitment firms.
