ProspectCity

Chicago, IL – March, 2011

Prospect City announced it has been engaged by On Partners to provide a Velvet Database Solution for their business, with offices in Ohio, Texas and California.

Velvet is replacing Goldmine, which has been used by the firm for many years. The Velvet system adds several dimensions to the storage and management of key data supporting the executive search process.

Prospect City is an infrastructure services provider to executive recruiting firms and corporate recruiting functions within large organizations. The Velvet Database is a leading solution for innovative executive recruiting firms who seek a system designed exclusively for senior level executive recruitment and one that offers customization that results in a proprietary system that evolves with their business.

"This is truly the last system an executive search firm will need because it is always on the leading edge and stays with your firm as it grows and evolves" added Robert Stein, President of Prospect City. "Our competitors like Dillistone and Cluen are designed to meet the needs of a very broad pool of search firms, including both retainer and contingency firms. Because of this, their solutions are not entirely in line with the needs of high-end search firms. They can't respond with the type of dexterity that we have because they have to consider so many customers in a large market. Every one of our systems are separate and uniquely designed for each customer."

ON Search Partners (www.onpartners.com) is a leading retained executive search firm, distinguished by an unwavering, entrepreneurial spirit. We deliver highly personalized advisory services to the ever-changing technology, life sciences and cleantech industries. Our analytical, data-driven recruiting approach, guided by an implicit respect for the individual, provides the insight and context necessary to make smart leadership decisions in a fluid environment.
