

recruiting simplified.

Chicago, IL – December, 2012

Prospect City has reached a major milestone with key client RHR International. Prospect City has been providing key intelligence in support of executive assessment for more than two years and has now delivered over 700 intelligence reports for key executives. Companies number over 150 across virtually every industry and on all scales.

In addition to a key talent intelligence initiatives, Prospect City will provides its database technology to support RHR teams in an effort to organize intelligence.

“Our terrific relationship with RHR has spanned several years based on a track record of mutual admiration and highest standards across our processes”, said Robert Stein, President of Prospect City. “This is one of the most respected consulting businesses in the world and we treasure our longstanding relationship.”

Prospect City is an infrastructure and intelligence services provider to consulting businesses, private equity firms, executive search firms and corporate talent functions. The company leverages its core expertise and its large network of trusted resources to deliver intelligence, insight, and solid references for RHR and its clients.

RHR International is a firm of management psychologists and consultants who work closely with top management to accelerate individual, team and business performance. It focuses on Individual Assessment, Executive Development, Senior Team Effectiveness and CEO Succession. Founded in 1945, it is unique in its combination of top management focus, psychologists’ perspective and high-level business acumen. It has offices in Belgium, Brazil, Canada, China, France, Germany, Italy, Switzerland, United Kingdom and United States.

Contact Information

sales@prospectcity.com

Prospect City, LLC

847.487.4256